

Galerie

ART & CULTURE

The Artful Life: 9 Things Galerie Editors Love This Week

From an immersive contemporary art project featuring the work of Joan Jonas, Nina Carini, and others on view at the St. Regis Venice to a high jewelry masterpiece by David Yurman that celebrates America's semiquincentennial

BY GALERIE EDITORS

JUNE 9, 2026

Interior of new River Cottages at Troutbeck, designed by Champalimaud.
PHOTO: JIM HENKENS

Interior of new River Cottages at Troutbeck, designed by Champalimaud.
PHOTO: JIM HENKENS

Interior of new River Cottages at Troutbeck, designed by Champalimaud.
PHOTO: JIM HENKENS

4. Champalimaud Designs New River Cottages at Hudson Valley Hideaway Troutbeck

Situated on 250 bucolic acres in New York's Dutchess County, Troutbeck has long lured creative types who are drawn to the romantic retreat for its peaceful surroundings and legacy as a refuge for poets, naturalists, and other literati. New this summer, the property has added four one- and two-bedroom River Cottages overlooking the Webutuck River in Amenia. Like the rest of the charming getaway, the interiors reflect the distinct style of Champalimaud, who layered the accommodations conceived by architects Stonehill Taylor with artisan touches, including ceramic lamps by Connecticut studio Dumais Made and four-poster king-size beds by Ian Ingersoll which are dressed in Frette linens. Antiques, tiled gas fireplaces, and artwork from Thompson Street Studio add to the lived-in atmosphere, cultivating a home away from home ambiance. However, with decadent wellness programming and spa treatments at the Barns, locavore cuisine at the on-site restaurant, art exhibitions, and a dreamy landscape manicured by Reed + Hilderbrand, Troutbeck also offers plenty of reasons to get out and explore.—Jill Sieracki

